GRATIFYING

Is the Outlook for the Big Chicken and Pigeon Show.

Great interest is being manifested throughout this section of the State in the approaching exhibition of the State Fanciers and Breeders Association which will be held here in December. Breeders and fanciers of the adjoining counties are making application daily for entry blanks and it is the opinion of the gentlemen in charge that Frankfort will have one of the largest and most representative crowds that has ever attended such a meeting in the State. Not only the surrounding counties are taking an interest in the coming meeting, but prominent men from other States have expressed their intention of being present and taking part in the proceedings.

The leading merchants of the city have given handsome prizes, and the committee is adding new ones each day and every indication points to a very profitable and successful meeting.

This is an enterprise our people should appreciate and assist in every way they possibly can.

The State of Kentucky offered a handsome cash prize which will be hotly contested for by all, and this one prize will attract many exhibitors from a distance.

The Association has selected Mr. Jerry Newman to solicit advertisements for the program and premium list, which will be gotten up in the very best and latest style and mailed throughout this section of the State. Fifteen hundred copies will be issued, and as the exhibition is only one week before Christmas, this will make one of the best and most profitable ways our merchants can advertise for the holiday trade. The catalogue will be mailed on November 1st, giving the receivers plenty of time to read it through before the meeting, as well as giving the advertisers a "run for their money." Mr. Newman will call on the merchants in a few days, and explain how the catalogue will be gotten up. By taking space you will not only help the association to make the exhibition a permanent one, but will also obtain a splendid advertising medium.

NEW BUILDINGS.

Mr. Eugene Williams is building two new houses on his lot on Bridge street, South Side. They will be storerooms.

AN IDEAL DAY.

Sunday last was an especially ideal fall day. All nature seemed to smile and the air was mild and balmy during the middle of the day and cool and bracing both morning and evening.

MAJOR B. G. THOMAS RETIRES.

Major B. G. Thomas, one of the last of the old-time race horse men, of Lexington, will close out his Dixiana Stud of 40 horses and retire from the turf in the near future.

TUESDAY'S BLAZE.

An alarm from box 25, at 9:10 on Tuesday morning, was occasioned by a pile of trash in the stable of Mr. John C. Mastin, on Catfish alley, catching fire. It was quickly extinguished without loss.

WANTED—By Chicago whole sale and mail order house, assistant manager (man or woman) for this county and adjoining territory. Salary $30 and expenses paid weekly; expense money advanced. Work pleasant; position permanent. No investment or experience required. Write at once for full particulars and enclose self-addressed envelope.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS TO JUDGE JOS. H. LEWIS.

Judge W. H. Holt, of Louisville, but formerly Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, presented to that court, on Tuesday, resolutions adopted by his former associates on the appellate bench in honor of Judge Jos. H. Lewis.

The memorial was signed by Judges W. S. Pryor, W. H. Holt, R. L. D. Guffy, J. D. White, George DuRelle, Jas. H. Hazelrigg and A. R. Burnam.

The memorial was ordered of record.

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Roundabout:

Will you give me space to say a few words in regard to the approaching election for city officers.

It has been urged as an objection to the election of Mr. Kenner Taylor as Mayor that he will use whisky in his race. We are authorized to say that Mr. Taylor HAS NOT, NOR WILL HE, USE WHISKY IN ANY MANNER, SHAPE OR FORM DURING THE CAMPAIGN. He does not drink himself and will not encourage others to do so.

It is urged that Dr. Hume is a better business man than his opponent, and for that reason, he will make a better Mayor. We have no disposition to deny Dr. Hume's ability in this regard, but it certainly has not been shown that he has any more executive ability than his opponent.

Mr. Taylor has served as a Councilman and has been vigilant and efficient. There has been no measure passed that was of doubtful character, but what has met his unshaken opposition.

Again, we regret to see so clever a gentleman as Dr. Hume being used as a catspaw by the machine to draw the chestnuts out of the fire for them. We don't like the company he is in just now. His fate is sure to be that of "Old Dog Tray." In bad company he must suffer the consequences. The people will see to it that the machine is told to "Go Way Back and Sit Down" hard. JUSTICE.

FRIGHTFUL SUFFERING RELIEVED.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at all druggists, guaranteed.

SUNDAY'S ALARM.

An alarm from box 3, at 11:35, Sunday morning, was caused by a small blaze in the residence of Mr. George Baker, on Third street. It was quickly extinguished, with nominal loss.

WINTER WORK IN Y. M. C. A.

Secretary J. Paul Swain, of the Y. M. C. A., is planning a very vigorous campaign for the association men during the winter months. He has just issued a prospectus of an evening school for classes in business correspondence, commercial arithmetic and bookkeeping. As side issues of this department there will be a number of practical talks delivered by prominent business and professional men of the city. The list of these talks and the speakers is as follows:

October 20—Essentials of Good Citizenship, Rev. C. R. Hudson.

October 27—Sociological Aspects of Small City, Rev. William Crowe.

November 3—The Science of Advertising, M. Delvaux Coyle.

November 10—Appendicitis, Dr. E. C. Roemele.

November 17—An Employer's Measure of a Man, W. G. Simpson.

November 24—Tuberculosis, Dr. H. S. Keller.

December 1—Law a Business Man Ought to Know, A. C. VanWinkle.

December 8—Science of Salesmanship, Chas. F. Strasser.

December 15—Pneumonia, Dr. E. E. Hume.

December 22—Real Estate Investment, W. H. Posey.

A debating club will be organized for Saturday evenings and continue throughout the year. Enrollment in the evening school will be Monday, October 9, while the classes will open October 16.

Men's meeting will be held in the Opera House during the months of December and January on Sunday afternoon. The very best speakers that can be secured will be on the program. Good music will also be a feature.

Bible classes will be conducted in and out of the building. A class in teaching-training on Tuesday night at 7:30-8:30, will be led by Secretary Swain for the purpose of training Bible teachers. Another class will be conducted for those in the Educational Department held on Tuesday night at 7:30-8:30. A third class will be conducted for gymnasium men on Tuesday night at 7:30-8:30, led by Physical Director Wagner.

The Frankfort Association will endeavor to raise $100 for the support of Mr. Fred J. Michel in India. Mr. Michel's work is to organize Young Men's Christian Associations among the 400,000 railway men of India.

A Bible class for boys will be held on Saturday morning before gymnasium classes. On Sunday afternoons meetings will be held for the boys, addressed by local speakers.

A DAREDEVIL RIDE

Often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Scalds and burns like magic. 25c at all druggists.

ANOTHER SMALL BLAZE.

At 8:10, on Thursday night, an alarm from box 21 called the firemen to the residence of Col. M. H. P. Williams, Sr., on Main street (known as the old stone tavern,) where a big blaze from a chimney filled with soot made things look ugly for a time. A supply of salt was thrown into the flue by the fire boys quickly extinguishing the blaze. No damage.

K. D. & W. CO. TO BE DISSOLVED.

The Kentucky Distillery and Warehouse Company is to be dissolved. This is part of a plan announced by the Distillers' Securities Corporation from headquarters at New York, for the purpose of curtailing expenses and simplifying work. The other companies affected by this decision are the American Spirits Manufacturing Company, which operates in the West, and probably the, Hannis Distilling Company, which controls the output of distilleries in Maryland and West Virginia.

The dissolution of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company will not affect the employees in Louisville or Frankfort who will be continued under the direction of the distillers' corporation. The general clerical staff in New York will be considerably reduced, however.

This move is in line with a policy inaugurated last spring when the Standard Distilling and Distributing Company was dissolved and the central corporation took over its various properties.

J. A. Wadsworth, of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company at Louisville, said Tuesday that it was the purpose of the Securities Corporation to dissolve the subsidiary companies as soon as all the stock of the various companies is bought or the independent stockholders induced to go in. This will result in a saving on the salary of the clerical force and will materially lessen the taxes.

NO STEP BACKWARD.

It is well enough for every voter at the November election to remember that an amendment is proposed to the present Constitution, providing for a return to the old-fashioned way of voting viva voce, or by word of mouth. This will be either adopted or rejected by the people at the approaching election.

While it may be true that there are some objections to the curious Australian secret ballot, yet the advantage outnumbers so far the disadvantages and objections that there is no question among fair-minded and unprejudiced men that the secret ballot is infinitely preferable to the old way. It undoubtedly gives an opportunity for a fairer expression of the voter's will than the old way.

It does not behoove Kentucky to take a backward step in the march to the future. Every State in the Union is using the Australian or secret ballot. Why should Kentucky do this thing simply at the behest of a lot of unscrupulous politicians?

VOTE AGAINST THE AMENDMENT.

THE NEW CAPITAL TRUST COMPANY OPENS FOR BUSINESS.

The new Capital Trust Co., located in the Mason & Hoge building, at the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, opened its doors for business on Monday last. The following gentlemen are the officers: President—T. L. Edelen. Vice President and General Manager—W. H. Posey. Secretary and Treasurer—John McH. Craig.
The office fittings are very handsome and the vault a splendid place for safety and security of deposits.

FUSIONIST'S DEVICE.

The Fusionists of this city have adopted the "Ark" as the device under which the ticket will be placed on the ballot for the November election. It is a very suggestive one.

A PLEASURE TO ALL.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—DR. G. G. GREEN.

¶The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

¶There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boecher's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

¶It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

¶But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if hard consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

¶New trial bottles, 25c. Regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

For sale by J. W. Gayle.

We have 212,000 miles of railroads in the United States, and they have issued for their construction, equipment, improvement and maintenance $18,000,000,000 in round numbers of railroad bonds, stocks and other securities, most of which are now held by our own citizens. All classes of people and all kinds of business are interested in the subject and will be affected, favorably or unfavorably, by whatever may be done. A false step might mean the most serious injury to the country's welfare and the people's prosperity.

It is not necessary to say that the Democratic party is incapable of satisfactorily dealing with such a complicated and difficult problem, because it is sufficient for present purposes and more agreeable to say only that the Republican party is far better qualified for this most important work.

If this be true we shall prove unfaithful to ourselves if we do not continue it in power, for it is our duty to all interests involved and to the country as a whole to choose at this time, as well as at other times, the most acceptable agency that can be secured for the administration of our public affairs.

DO YOU WANT STRENGTH?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerve, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Keen-DeWitt's Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the strength-giving qualities. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

Mrs. Martha Jett Read, widow of the late Mr. Alfred Read, celebrated her 75th birthday on Thursday of last week, at her home on the Louisville pike.

There were four generations present at the dinner table that day, as follows: Mrs. Martha Read; her daughter, Mrs. Julia Miller, of Covington; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mayme Miller; her daughter, Miss Ethel Miller.

Mrs. Read is a good woman of the old style—intelligent, pious, domestic and amiable—beloved by her host of friends in the city and country.

The following persons were seated at the hospitable board, besides those given above: Mrs. Ella Bennett, Mrs. Jessie Neil and Master Walter Neil, all of Newport; Judge W. L. Jett, Mrs. Sue E. Jett, Mrs. Sallie Gaines, Miss Bettie Graves, Andrew Thomason, Stephen Arnold, Mrs. Kate Redmond, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Miss Sallie Johnson, Mrs. Robert Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. Parrott, Thos. Cardwell, Mrs. Martha Cardwell, Miss Sue Read, Andrew Read, Miss Cordie Cardwell, and Miss Millie Hawkins.

A delightful dinner was served and the guests joined in wishing this good woman man happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Read received many valuable and useful presents.

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than the excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensation in the throat, discomfort from sleeping on the left side and smothering spells at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand their meaning should be warned in time, by the following experience:

"I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, together with bathing, etc. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. Before beginning the use of your remedies I was so nervous I could not keep my hands still and suffered greatly from severe pains around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to assume a sitting posture to get my breath, and for the time being it would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved in my case I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nerve and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous troubles."—Yours truly, ELIJAH HATT, Dothan, Ala.

distinguished man, who was called twice to the presidency of Central University in Danville. He is a Kentuckian by birth and well known in Lexington:

At an informal tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Robert S. Frazer, at her home in Ripley street, announcement was made of the engagement of Mrs. Eleanor Fulton Colvin to the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church. Four o'clock was the hour named and the guests were received by Mrs. Frazer and her honor guest, Mrs. E. H. Brown, and Miss Sarah Ellis poured tea and chocolate, and those who assisted were Mrs. Sarah Frazer, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Anna Ellis and Miss Margery Brown. Simple, but effective arrangements of pink roses, white asters and pink carnations obtained in the drawing room, and in the dining room pink tinted carnations were used in the center piece. Although no exact date has as yet been announced for the wedding, it is to take place some time this month at the home of Mrs. Colvin, in Mellon street. Mrs. Colvin is a cousin of Judge Frazer and is a daughter of the late George P. Fulton.

Dr. McEwan's many friends in this city will read the above with great interest and tender their congratulations.

His sisters (Mrs. J. R. Todd, Mrs. S. M. Noel, Miss Mollie McEwan and Miss Tina McEwan) reside in this city. His sister (Miss Lizzie) lives with him in Pittsburg, and his brother (Mr. Jas. A. McEwan) lives at Woodlake.

CHEATED DEATH.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, as I find they have no equal." All druggists guarantee them at 50c.

"IMPOSSIBLE" PORT AR- THUR.

Less than a year ago a famous military expert said: "It takes men drunk with victory and strong and ancient might to dare the risk of taking Port Arthur; human energy and prowess can not force it; only madmen would attempt it."

What prompted such a positive dictum from such an authoritative source may be realized from the only authentic reproduction in existence of the great battlefield to be exhibited by Lyman H. Howe in Frankfort, at Capital Theatre, on Wednesday, October 18.

This series of moving pictures in Mr. Howe's new program can not fail to inspire true sensations of the elemental contest at the apex of the world, where two civilizations were in life and death throes—sensations and impressions that nothing short of these graphic, sweeping animated scenes alone can afford. They begin where all mere description ends. Here is a great army from a warlike nation, equipped for scientific fighting and officered by men trained in the world's best schools; twenty thousand men driven in a hole; men of the same blood that defeated Napoleon, stubbornly contested Sebastopol, and at appalling loss of life reduced the marvelous Blevna. Fright against them is an entirely new world power, another army little known and less honored. They are engaged in a mighty struggle on the grandest battlefield the world has ever seen.

Only ten neutrals had the hardihood and pluck to risk their lives daily to record for history this immortal conflict. Only ten neutrals are accorded the privilege by the Japanese Government to do so. Only one of these ten secured an enduring history of it in moving pictures, and this one was the personal representative of Lyman H. Howe. Through special facilities extended him by the Japanese Government, he has secured for Mr. Howe the only absolutely authentic reproduction of moving pictures direct from the firing lines of Port Arthur. Mr. Howe will neither sell nor lease them to any exhibitor or theatre in America. They can be seen at his own exhibitions exclusively and form but one of many equally interesting scenes of world-wide interest in the new program.

NOT LIKE OTHER GIRLS.

Miss Ailyce Kee Nan, who comes to this city to the Capital Theatre on Friday, October 20, never tires of discussing her recent visit to Italy. Miss Kee Nan believes in going through life with her eyes wide open, and although the public is accustomed to seeing her in varied lines, thus quite naturally forming the opinion that she is interested only in the lighter vein of things theatrical, Miss Kee Nan is a close student of everything that pertains to the stage, and this year she has been fitted with a character in "Thou Shalt Not Kill," that suits her personality, and on her appearance here, her many friends, who are legion, will doubtless give her an ovation.

In conversation with Miss Kee Nan, at Pittsburgh, during her engagement there, she spoke of her visit to Italy, and of the natural things in the sunny clime. The Italian actors are many, and some of them are excellent. Their work is one of the most laborious kind. The program is changed every night, or every alternate night, and it is no usual thing for a company to perform forty or fifty dramas in a short season. As a result, the prompter is, of course, a very prominent performer in every Italian play. How different from our own theatres. He sits in a hooded box on the edge of the auditorium and his voice is heard as a drumming undertone through every speech that is spoken on the stage. The quickness of the Italian intellect is strikingly exhibited in the facility with which the actor follows the voice that comes up from their very feet. It is a bad condition of things, and very disturbing to an audience, but forced upon the managers by the necessity of overhauling the actor's profession is not a good one in Italy from any point, but the artistic one, and even then, it is hampered by previous disadvantages.

The rank and file of the profession is not remarkable, but the best Italian actors are among the best to be found anywhere. If there is a better all-around actor than Ermete Novelli, I have never seen him. This gentleman, Liebler & Company are to star in this country the coming winter. He is an actor in the literal and absolute sense of a man who assumes the character of another. As a consequence, he plays anything and everything, and his tragedy is as good as his comedy. There are other Italian actors of hardly less distinction, but Signora Duse is almost the only living Italian actress of quite the first rank. An Italian audience at a theatre is not always a good one. It can be merciless and cruel. I have seen it applaud an actor for sheer deviltry, and even an actress, whose only interest was some grotesque mannerisms, or perhaps physical infirmities. It can also be sufficiently apathetic. When the house is thin, the play drags, and the audience will sometimes bury itself in the evening papers, which are sold in Italian theatres between the acts; on the other hand, it can, on occasions, be the finest, and most appreciative, and the most inspiring audience in the world. Friday is always the fashionable house, and Sunday the popular one, and on either of these occasions with Novelli on the stage in one of his great parts is pretty sure to bring out the best qualities of an Italian audience. "Receptions" are rare; "Curtains" are few; "Pictures" are unknown, but the fervor with which the audience follows a fine actor up to the top of his great passage, the hush, the suspended breath, then the deep sigh, the long ah, and the shout of bravo, and finally the prolonged applause, must be, I imagine, an experience worth living for. It is "Rising" at an actor in a higher sense than the physical one. Taking everything together, I can not say the theatre in Italy seems to me to be in a high state of development. In that home and cradle of the drama, in dear old sunny Italy, progress has been slow.

"DO IT TO-DAY."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some relief remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boesehe's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 50c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

A DRAMA EVERYDAY LIFE.

Mrs. Mary Stewart Cutting, the author of "Little Stories of Courtship," a recently published collection of her McClure romances of suburban life, has in the October number another of her sympathetic tales of the simple home. "The Elmer" is the Ridge's viewpoint of a little domestic drama in which the neighborhood tragedy of a neglected wife is straightened out in the light of big happenings which help husband and wife, as well as the neighbors, to a readjustment of ideas.

Mrs. Cutting finds the romance in the simple lives of everyday people, and her wholesome, familiar Americans get out quick sympathy because, perhaps, they are us.

FRANKFORT-ITS ENVIRONMENT.

In the wheels of progress there will be found many spokes by which one can reach the center, and flow of circumstances, and thus, believing, it was not hard to step from Look No. 4 on to the deck of the beautiful steamer, "Falls City."

Capt. Abraham, master, one morning not long ago. The big boat filled nearly all of space within the compass of walls enclosed by gates, and steamed fearlessly up the broad, beautiful expanse of water, and a wake behind her, as white and billowy as were the cloud-caps floating lazily in a sea of azure, far above the horizon.

The sky was as blue as the wing of the song bird flying across our pathway. Its song of joy drowned in the splash and whirl of water and machinery—emblem of life—the two opposite, the one changing with the wind and tide, the other always sure; always ready; always silent as destiny.

On the left side of our direction the "Fort Hill" loomed up like grim, sad sentinel left at the post of duty, forgotten by the guard. This point of eminence is of interest only as a fine vantage ground for fortifications in case of war. The hillsides here have been denuded of all timber and the rounded base of soil is used for cultivation, despite the inroads an occasional water spout might make on grain growing, or vegetable marketing. Up the incline plane a wagon road winds in artistic measure, making a suggestive feature in the landscape, of wealth to be gained by pasture lands on top of the hill, with perhaps homes built—and a series of terraced holdings where some progressive agriculturist might one day make his pockets full of the "almighty dollars"—such things have happened.

At the base of the hill are built rows of houses, peculiar in aspect, with silent and dingy appearance from our point of view. These are tenement, or homes of laboring people, but what seems altogether singular is the backs of the houses to the river, and in the long rows there is hardly one with a point of approach by way of the water front. It is not my purpose or prerogative to quibble with landed interest, or the mysteries of the civic improvement company, at this writing, but this portion of the city is once the marshy domain of the crawfish, hence its euphonious cognomen of "Craw." There are electric light plants and a car system. Lumber interest in every possible phase from the saw log rafts, in the river, to the logging, planning, manufacturing development of the noble, stately denizens of the forest into planks, shingles, etc. If there is one thing the average Kentuckian knows it is how to "hack down" the forest trees, and the woodlands, and convert the beauty of the scenery into a "tobacco patch." "The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine"—and one day, sooner or later, these very same gentlemen will be considering, how to save the land from washouts, and the advisability of planting trees!

On the right side of the river we viewed the classic precincts of the "West Side" of Frankfort, once known, in legal jurisprudence, as "Bellevue," the most independent burg this side of Canada, and the home of "Col. J. N. C." whose good-natured stories, told and written in the "days long since," made him famous as the "Bar of Frankfort."

The river front is well wooded by beech, and other timber, but through the foliage one could determine the avenue of pleasant homes; the surroundings of suburban comfort, the rest after the day's toil and cares! Up on the hillside is the old homestead of the heirs of Judge Samuel Todd, a spot of historic beauty, made famous by the visits from President Harrison, his autograph up on the massive beech tree, the yellow rose planted by his hand, the exquisite ring of ruby left as a memento of his love, the table of Gen. LaFayette, and other memories in prose and story. May "Lal-e Park" be preserved for time immemorial.

Still steaming up the river, we passed under the most wonderful bridge in the world, where passengers, traffic and a railroad system, embody the thought of unity. The bridge structure was high above the chimneys of the bank, and with no thought save and except the beauty of the voyage, we swing round the natural curve of water, and viewed the hillsides to be seen in the rising in delightful repose, green with verdure, crowned by trees, with homes dotting the landscape. It was a scene long to be remembered. Just in front of us loomed up the new bridge connecting South Frankfort with the city proper. The street cars were going over, and a line of vehicles, with many curious sightseers, were looking down upon our progress. It was indeed a busy scene. To our right was the South Side, dotted with willows and the public school buildings—massive and handsome. To the left saw logs galore, and the Customhouse, at the foot of which (as all law-abiding citizens must) we landed and walked over the gangway on to "terre firma," convinced by a personal experience that the steamer "Falls City" is good to travel by, and the captain, a man used to the usages of good form and conventionalities.

Where to turn next was the question "up to us." It was suggested that we first visit the U. S. Customhouse, and learn all about "Uncle Sam." If he had "red hair," as was suggested by a small boy who had taken a notion to study the engineering outlook, or if he really did make (as all men ought to do) Kentucky his home? We were asked for the residence of the resident portion, and was told, with smiles, to mount up to the "third floor," but not even a sight of "His Honor" was to be obtained. The Postoffice, and other U. S. offices, are in this building, which does not mean the office, the Postmaster and other officials were polite and courteous. We turned faces toward town, and stopped in front of the river, where the building, this side of Washington's Monument—the immortal Courthouse!

DANGER IN DELAY.
Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Frankfort People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Frankfort.

Nellie E. Callis, of 574 Holmes Street, wife of W. H. Callis, foreman at the Frankfort Chair Co.'s Works, says: "I have the greatest faith in Doan's Kidney Pills for their treatment brought me untold relief. I had backache for years. It was not severe at all times, but when an attack occurred, especially if I over-exerted myself in any way, aggravation of the aching was sure to follow. A positive proof of some disturbed action of the kidneys was the trouble with the kidney secretions. I tried various remedies, but found nothing that did me any permanent good. Reading an advertisement in our local papers about Doan's Kidney Pills it occurred to me that they might at least give some relief. Acting on this thought I went to J. W. Gayle's drug store and got a box. Their use proved that what people said about aching in my back was true, and the trouble with the kidney secretions was corrected. I thoroughly believe that every preparation which acts up to the representations made for it like Doan's Kidney Pills can not be too well known."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THURSDAY'S FIRE.

At 8:35, on Thursday morning, an alarm from box 87, called the department to the frame residence of Mr. Dudley Sharpe, on Kentucky Avenue, West Side.

Owing to the great distance from the nearest fire plug, the department was greatly hampered and delayed in throwing water on the fire, and in the meantime, the flames had reached such headway as to preclude saving the original building, which was burned down.

The most of the furniture was removed, but, of course, in a damaged condition.

The loss was some $1,000 or $1,500. We did not learn whether there was any insurance.

This fire emphasizes the demand for an immediate extension of the water main to the Lake Park entrance.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rigid patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and a warmer climate, you will find less nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup.
